R. J. Ertman instituted suit for divorce from his wife Mattie, in the county court yesterday, on the ground of cruel treatment and adultery.

The commencement exercises of the Fort Worth Business college begin at 8 o'clock sharp on Thursday night at the opera-house. Addresses will be delivered by some of the finest speakers in the city, and the exercises will be interspersed with music.

There will be a railroad meeting and public speaking on Saturday, June 27, 1885, at Grapevine, in the interest of the Dallas & Northwestern railroad. Hon. Olin Wellborn and Lieut.-Gov. Barney Gibbs will be the orators of the day.—(Grapevine Telephone.)

Mrs. Charles Benton is in New York busily engaged, with her husband, in looking after attractions for the opera-house. The best companies in the theatrical profession are anxious to visit Fort Worth, and contracts are being closed daily with latest New York successes.

Blanch Williams, the woman who figured so conspicuously in the attempted jail delivery of two months ago, was rearrested yesterday evening, her bondsmen having given her up. After a few hours, however, she succeeded in making a new bond and was again released.

The thanks of THE GAZETTE are due the Fort Worth Pharmacy company for a box of fragrant cigars. In addition to knowing how to run a first-class drug store, Messrs. Craven & Little know where to put a first-class cigar for it to be most highly enjoyed and appreciated.

Capt. Harris, chief engineer of the Dallas & Northwestern railroad, arrived in our little city Tuesday evening. He left Thursday morning for Montague county to get the "lay of the land," or, in other words, to locate the first survey. Where will the depot be? is the question.—(Grapevine Telephone.)

The Mutual Self-Endowment and Benevolent Association of America paid a $1000 claim yesterday to J. A. Wilson of Sherman. It is not necessary for a member of this association to die to win, as the by-laws provide for the payment of coupon tickets at stated intervals, and pro rata payments every few years.

A freight train on the Santa Fe ran into a herd of stampeded cattle the other day six miles south of the city and injured one hundred and three, killing eighteen outright. The herd of cattle numbered 3000, and were stampeded by the thunder-storm. In their mad career they carried a barbed-wire fence about three hundred yards.

The steam laundry team that misbehaved so yesterday morning upon the streets and were so unruly, found an opportunity to run away last night about 9 o'clock while standing in front of the Pickwick hotel. We have been requested by the young gentlemen interested in giving the complimentary party on Friday evening last, to state that they do not alone claim the honors, as it was not given by any organized club, but by the friends of the young ladies, a number of whom were married gentlemen, and the expenses are being shared by a majority of the participants.

"After all," we venture the assertion that Dallas never builds a road to the county seat of Ellis. Dallas has been promising the people of Grapevine that it would help them build a road from Dallas to this place for five years, and the road is not built yet. #### Green Lima Beans.

The first of the season, at the Fort Worth Grocer Co's.

JEWELRY.

Watches, Clocks and Diamonds. Howard Tully is still doing business at the old stand, and has doubtless the most complete stock of jewelry, watches, clocks and diamonds to be found in the state. Mr. Tully has been instrumental in making Fort Worth the headquarters of North and Northwest Texas for fine watches, jewelry and diamonds, and throughout the territory tributary to the city the name has become a synonym for honesty. Until a jeweler convinces his trade that he handles only reliable goods, and that a guarantee of quality accompanies every package that leaves his house, he is by no means on the high road to prosperity. Faith on the part of the patron is essential to a sale, and the secret of Tully's success is found in the fact that he is anchored for life and handles only goods of high grade. His stock is just all that could be desired, and while the dull season continues he is making prices remarkably low. Special figures are given on engagement and wedding rings.
